Brian Exelbert Helps Shape a Historic Moment for Miami Through FIFA World Cup 2026 Miami Host Committee

Miami - As one of Miami's leading wealth management professionals, Brian Exelbert, Financial Advisor, has built a career centered on thoughtful leadership, long-term vision, and serving his community. Today, those qualities extend far beyond the financial world through his role as a member of the Board of Directors for the FIFA World Cup 2026™ Miami Host Committee.

The appointment places Exelbert among an accomplished group of business, civic, and community leaders entrusted with helping deliver one of the largest sporting events in the world. The Miami Host Committee was established to help ensure that South Florida not only hosts an extraordinary FIFA World Cup™, but also creates a lasting legacy through economic development, community engagement, cultural celebration, and youth initiatives.

Hosting seven FIFA World Cup matches at Hard Rock Stadium has brought the eyes of the world to Miami. Beyond the excitement on the pitch, the tournament has generated hundreds of millions of dollars in economic activity, welcomed hundreds of thousands of international visitors, showcased Miami's diverse culture to a global audience, and strengthened the region's reputation as one of the world's premier destinations for international events.

The accomplishments of the Miami Host Committee extend well beyond tournament operations. Working alongside FIFA, Miami-Dade County, municipal governments, business leaders, and countless volunteers, the committee successfully coordinated transportation, public safety, fan experiences, hospitality, regional marketing, and the vibrant FIFA Fan Festival that brought residents and visitors together throughout the tournament. Just as importantly, the committee has emphasized creating a legacy that will continue benefiting South Florida long after the final whistle, including investments in community programs and projects designed to inspire future generations.

For Exelbert, whose career has long reflected a commitment to both professional excellence and civic leadership, serving on the Host Committee represents another opportunity to give back to the city he proudly calls home. Alongside his work advising individuals, families, and institutions as an Executive Director at Carlin Wealth Management at Morgan Stanley, he has consistently dedicated his time to charitable organizations and community leadership throughout South Florida.

As Miami celebrates the success of hosting one of the world's most iconic sporting events, Brian Exelbert's service on the FIFA World Cup 2026™ Miami Host Committee reflects the important role that business leaders can play in shaping their communities. The tournament will be remembered not only for unforgettable moments on the field, but also for the collaboration, vision, and leadership that helped make Miami a welcoming stage for the world.

For Exelbert, it is another proud chapter in a career defined by leadership, service, and an enduring commitment to the South Florida community.
