LOOKING BACK ON 2025

As we look back at the past year, it's amazing to see how much has happened. We started the year looking forward to what was ahead. Some of us celebrated special moments, like birthdays, graduations, and trips. There were also exciting events, that brought us together to celebrate. Overall, this year was a mix of joy and hard work, but it helped us grow and appreciate the little things in life.

VOLUNTEERING

WHERE THE HEART MEETS HAND

June marks Global Volunteer Month, the longstanding tradition of volunteering and giving back. Each year this program brings us all together to act on our shared commitment to support our communities by volunteering and reaffirming one of our core values, Give Back.

Morgan Stanley has provided 3.1 million hours of employee volunteering since the first Global Volunteer Month in 2006.

The Rockport and Corpus Christi teams volunteered at the local Coastal Bend Food Bank for the third year in a row. We gathered to help with various tasks throughout the morning. The atmosphere was filled with a sense of teamwork and purpose. Everyone worked hard and supported each other making the tasks easier and more enjoyable. By the end of the morning, we felt fulfilled knowing we had made a positive impact on our community. In addition to volunteering, we presented a check on behalf of the Morgan Stanley Foundation in the amount of $32,052.

Spooky Season AT THE OFFICE

Spooky season can be a lot of fun! As Halloween approaches many workplaces start to decorate and celebrate this exciting time of year. You might see witch hats hanging from the ceiling, pumpkins on desks, and even some spooky lights. It's a great way to make the office feel festive and bring some joy to the workday.

Holiday SPIRIT

Some of the best parts of the holiday season are the decorations, food, and gatherings. Homes, streets, and businesses, are filled with lights, decorations, and festive displays. Many make delicious meals and treats. The holiday spirit creates a magical atmosphere that brings smiles to faces, and warmth to the heart.
