Alternative Investments

Explore investments beyond traditional portfolios. With unmatched experience, scale and reach across our vast global network, Morgan Stanley is an industry leader in alternative investments—providing access to exclusive offerings, preeminent fund managers and innovative investment opportunities.

Why Alternative Investments?

Alternatives are the investments that go beyond traditional stocks and bonds. They can open doors to help grow and protect your wealth, and have long sought to offer enhanced returns, portfolio diversification, lower volatility, as well as potential tax efficiency.

EXPANDED OPPORTUNITIES

Alternative investments offer access to private markets and other asset classes that would normally be difficult for some investors to access

YIELD/RETURN ADVANTAGE

Some alternative investments can offer higher income and total return opportunities than traditional stock or bond portfolios due to underlying risks, including illiquidity, credit and leverage

LOWER VOLATILITY

Alternative investments often exhibit low liquidity. While illiquidity is a risk, less-liquid strategies may not be subject to the same volatility as publicly traded securities

The statements on pages 2 and 3 reflect Morgan Stanley's views and opinions as of the date hereof and not as of any future date. All expressions of opinion are subject to change without notice and are not intended to be a forecast of future events or results. Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market. Alternative investments are not appropriate for all investors.

Recommended Asset Allocation

Our Global Investment Committee recommends that alternatives make up as much as 25% of an efficient portfolio, and for some investors, even higher.

Alternative Investments for Strategic Diversification

Go beyond the traditional 60/40 portfolio

Alternatives may help improve returns and reduce risk

In a traditional portfolio, there are combinations of stocks and bonds that offer an optimal expected return per level of risk. Higher levels of risk can result in higher expected returns. Over the last 30 years, adding an allocation to alternatives has been shown to enhance the traditional 60/40 portfolio while improving returns and reducing risk.¹

Additionally, alternatives can offer diversification in challenging market environments, and have outperformed in rising-rate environments and equity bear markets.²

Alternative Investments Eligibility

Investors participating in alternative investments offered through Morgan Stanley must meet certain SEC and/or state standards depending on the structure of the fund or service. Morgan Stanley may impose a qualification standard that is higher than those required to meet SEC/state standards. Additionally, individual funds or services may have their own investment minimum and eligibility criteria.

Alternative investments are offered only to qualified investors. Client eligibility¹ to purchase alternative investments is typically based on the client's net worth or, as applicable, net investable assets, as shown:

CLIENT NET WORTH/NET INVESTABLE ASSET MINIMUMS

1. Eligibility on its own does not satisfy all requirements and guidelines, nor does it imply appropriateness. Speak with your Financial Advisor or Private Wealth Advisor to help determine if alternative investments may be appropriate for you. Please see the Important Disclosures at the end of this publication for additional information and the applicable offering documents for specific eligibility requirements. Alternative investments are not appropriate for all investors.
2. Funds that rely on an Accredited Investor standard generally require a minimum net worth of $1 million for an individual (excluding primary residence), and $5 million for an entity.
3. The specific Registered Fund structure will determine eligibility standards. Funds that rely on an Accredited Investor standard and/or a Qualified Client standard generally include Registered Funds of Hedge Funds, Registered Single Manager Hedge Funds, Registered Private Equity Funds and Private Business Development Companies.
4. Non-Traded Real Estate Investment Trusts and Perpetual Business Development Companies generally require a minimum net worth of $1 million or income of $200K and $250K net worth for an individual, and $5 million for an entity, and must meet specific liquid net worth requirements. Interval Funds generally require a minimum net worth of $1 million or income of $200K and $250K net worth for an individual, and $5 million for an entity. Please see applicable offering documents.
5. Funds that rely on a Qualified Client standard require an individual or entity to have a minimum net worth of $2.2 million, exclusive of primary residence, or have at least $1.1 million invested under management with the manager of the fund.
6. Funds that rely on a Qualified Purchaser standard must also meet Accredited Investor standards, and require minimum net investable assets of $5 million for an individual, and $25 million for an entity.
7. In addition to meeting Accredited Investor and Qualified Purchaser standards, these funds are subject to firm-imposed higher eligibility standards.
8. Eligibility is reviewed on a case-by-case basis and is subject to change.

This material is not for distribution to the general public.

The sole purpose of this material is to inform, and it in no way is intended to be an offer or solicitation to purchase or sell any security, other investment or service, or to attract any funds or deposits. Investments mentioned may not be appropriate for all clients. Any product discussed herein may be purchased only after a client has carefully reviewed the offering memorandum and executed the subscription documents. Morgan Stanley Wealth Management has not considered the actual or desired investment objectives, goals, guidelines or factual circumstances of any investor in any fund(s). Before making any investment, each investor should carefully consider the risks associated with the investment, as discussed in the applicable offering memorandum, and make a determination based upon their own particular circumstances that the investment is consistent with their investment objectives and risk tolerance.

Alternative investments often are speculative and include a high degree of risk. Investors could lose all or a substantial amount of their investment. Alternative investments are appropriate only for eligible, long-term investors who are willing to forgo liquidity and put capital at risk for an indefinite period of time. They may be highly illiquid and can engage in leverage and other speculative practices that may increase the volatility and risk of loss. Alternative Investments typically have higher fees than traditional investments. Investors should carefully review and consider potential risks before investing. Certain of these risks may include but are not limited to:

Loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging, short-selling or other speculative practices;

Lack of liquidity in that there may be no secondary market for a fund;

Volatility of returns;

Restrictions on transferring interests in a fund;

Potential lack of diversification and resulting higher risk due to concentration of trading authority when a single advisor is utilized;

Absence of information regarding valuations and pricing;

Complex tax structures and delays in tax reporting;

Less regulation and higher fees than mutual funds;

Risks associated with the operations, personnel and processes of the manager; and

Risks associated with cybersecurity.

As a diversified global financial services firm, Morgan Stanley engages in a broad spectrum of activities, including financial advisory services, investment management activities, sponsoring and managing private investment funds, engaging in broker-dealer transactions and principal securities, commodities and foreign exchange transactions, research publication, and other activities. In the ordinary course of its business, Morgan Stanley therefore engages in activities where Morgan Stanley interests may conflict with the interests of its clients, including the private investment funds it manages. Morgan Stanley can give no assurance that conflicts of interest will be resolved in favor of its clients or any such fund.

Alternative investments involve complex tax structures, tax inefficient investing, and delays in distributing important tax information. Individual funds have specific risks related to their investment programs that will vary from fund to fund. Clients should consult their own tax and legal advisors as Morgan Stanley Wealth Management does not provide tax or legal advice.

A majority of Alternative Investment managers reviewed and selected by GIMA pay or cause to be paid an ongoing fee for distribution from their management fees to Morgan Stanley Wealth Management in connection with Morgan Stanley Wealth Management clients that purchase an interest in an Alternative Investment and in some instances pay these fees on the investments held by advisory clients. Morgan Stanley Wealth Management rebates such fees that are received and attributable to an investment held by an advisory client and retains the fees paid in connection with investments held by brokerage clients. Morgan Stanley Wealth Management has a conflict of interest in offering alternative investments because Morgan Stanley Wealth Management or our affiliates, in most instances, earn more money in your account from your investments in alternative investments than from other investment options.

Interests in alternative investment products are only made available pursuant to the terms of the applicable offering memorandum, are distributed by Morgan Stanley Wealth Management and certain of its affiliates, and (1) are not FDIC insured, (2) are not deposits or other obligations of Morgan Stanley Wealth Management or any of its affiliates, (3) are not guaranteed by Morgan Stanley Wealth Management and its affiliates, and (4) involve investment risks, including possible loss of principal. Morgan Stanley Wealth Management is a registered broker-dealer, not a bank.

The returns on a portfolio consisting primarily of Environmental, Social and Governance (“ESG”) aware investments may be lower or higher than a portfolio that is more diversified or where decisions are based solely on investment considerations. Because ESG criteria exclude some investments, investors may not be able to take advantage of the same opportunities or market trends as investors that do not use such criteria.
