Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC offers a wide array of brokerage and advisor services to its clients, each of which may create a different type of relationship with different obligations to you. Please visit us at <http://www.morganstanley.com/> or consult with your Financial Advisor to understand these differences.

Asset Allocation does not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss in a declining financial market. The investments listed may not be suitable for all investors. Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC recommends that investors independently evaluate particular investments and encourages investors to seek the advice of a financial advisor. The appropriateness of a particular investment will depend upon an investor's individual circumstances and objectives.

Tax laws are complex and subject to change. Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC ("Morgan Stanley"), its affiliates and Morgan Stanley Financial Advisors and Private Wealth Advisors do not provide tax or legal advice and are not "fiduciaries" (under ERISA, the Internal Revenue Code or otherwise) with respect to the services or activities described herein except as otherwise provided in writing by Morgan Stanley. Since life insurance is medically underwritten, you should not cancel your current policy until your new policy is in force. A change to your current policy may incur charges, fees and costs. A new policy will require a medical exam. Surrender charges may be imposed and the period of time for which the surrender charges apply may increase with a new policy. You should consult with your own tax advisors regarding your potential tax liability on surrenders.

Sustainable investments (may also be referred to as "Environmental, Social and Governance" or "ESG" investments) in a portfolio may experience performance that is lower or higher than a portfolio not employing such practices. Portfolios with sustainability restrictions and strategies as well as sustainable investments may not be able to take advantage of the same opportunities or market trends as portfolios where sustainability criteria are not applied. There are inconsistent sustainability definitions and criteria within the industry, as well as multiple ESG ratings providers that provide ESG ratings of the same subject companies and/or securities that vary among the providers. Certain issuers of investments may have differing and inconsistent views concerning sustainability criteria, and the sustainability claims made in offering documents or other literature may overstate sustainability impact. Sustainability designations are as of the date of this material, and no assurance is provided that the underlying assets have maintained or will maintain any such designation or any stated sustainability compliance. As a result, it is difficult to compare sustainable investment products or to evaluate a sustainable investment product in comparison to one that does not focus on sustainability. Investors should also independently consider whether the sustainable investment product meets their own sustainability objectives or criteria.

There is no assurance that a sustainable investing strategy or technique employed will be successful. Past performance is not a guarantee or a dependable measure of future results.
